DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS

MENTOR MENTEE REPORT

2022-2023

Some issues raised during the period were:

1. Most of the students were concerned about their return to campus as they were missing out on practicals.
2. Also many students had poor network connectivity due to which they were facing problems in attending online classes.
3. One student was concerned about not being able to attend classes because of severe ill health of her father and was greatly stressed about it.
4. The students were particularly concerned as the programme is heavy on field components and it was impossible to undertake field activities during the pandemic period.
5. One overseas student had a multitude of concerns including non-receipt of fellowship, difference in time zone and balancing academics and work as she was also working part-time.
6. Other issues included feelings hopelessness, anxiety, lack of confidence etc.

Some issues resolved during the period were:

1. Encouraging them to download the recorded lectures and listen to them at their convenience.
2. Assuring them that practicals will be duly taken care of upon their return to campus and that they will get all possible support from the faculty members in this regard.
3. Helping the students get in touch with organizations where they could take up field internships and get some exposure of field realities.
4. Advising the overseas student on how to resolve the fellowship concerns and assuring her that in spite of the difference in time zone, the faculty will do their best to accommodate her during mutually convenient hours.
5. Positively motivating the students to believe in their potential, do their best and adapt to the changing circumstances. A couple of students were also put in touch with professional counsellors for better mental health support.

DEPARTMENT OF COMPUTER SCIENCE

MENTOR MENTEE REPORT 2022-2023

Many programmes for student development were organised by the Department of Computer Science. These programmes combine curricular and extracurricular activities. First, each batch's students are divided into groups, and each group is assigned a mentor. The groups are organised alphabetically based on their names. In addition, the faculty mentor will help the mentee overcome mental, academic, and financial challenges. The mentor's role is to engage in both informal and formal communication with the mentee, such as personal interviews in which a mentoring sheet is filled out. A mentor can also identify his mentees' academic prowess by constantly analysing their academic performances. Mentees will be classified as advanced or slow learners based on their academic performance. Apart from the mentoring sessions conducted for all the mentees in common, individual mentoring was done to mentees who were identified as slow learners and advanced learners. The performance of some of the mentees was below the average level of performance of the whole class. The mentoring sessions helped to identify the cause of the poor performance and the mentees were helped to overcome their learning difficulties after a few personal mentoring sessions.

The major issues raised during the sessions included

- 1) Anxiety about their future and employment prospects after completion of the programme
- 2) Few of them are willing to sit for the net and test their academic chances.
- 3) Fluency in English and bilingualism without difficulty when the situation calls for it
- 4) Concerns regarding credit allocation when working in a team

Some issues resolved during the period were:

- 1) Make them comfortable by assuring them that placement avenues have been meticulously arranged. The mentees are assured that faculty members of their respective courses are prepared to assist and support them in any way that will enhance the teaching and learning experience.
- 2) Give advice on how to prepare for internet and test-based academics.
- 3) Ensure that English is spoken on campus and form pairs for conversations.

Our educational system includes mentoring of students, which attempts to offer direction and assistance. Mentors are essential to the college experience because they support mentees in overcoming obstacles to their studies and facilitating a seamless credit completion process. Every semester, mentor-mentee meetings are arranged to help our students reach their full potential and to implement the mentoring system on campus.

The pandemic made it necessary for mentoring to occur online with a uniform student body. This year, the mentoring committee decided to respond to the mentees' questions as reported by the mentors in their committee report. The committee members gathered data from the appropriate authorities and disseminated it to each mentor. The mentoring committee's comprehensive report for the 2022-2023 academic years is provided below.

DEPARTMENT OF COMPUTER SCIENCE
MENTOR MENTEE REPORT 2021-2022

Many programmes for student development were organised by the Department of Computer Science. These programmes combine curricular and extracurricular activities. First, each batch's students are divided into groups, and each group is assigned a mentor. The groups are organised alphabetically based on their names. In addition, the faculty mentor will help the mentee overcome mental, academic, and financial challenges. The mentor's role is to engage in both informal and formal communication with the mentee, such as personal interviews in which a mentoring sheet is filled out. A mentor can also identify his mentees' academic prowess by constantly analysing their academic performances. Mentees will be classified as advanced or slow learners based on their academic performance.

Apart from the mentoring sessions conducted for all the mentees in common, individual mentoring was done to mentees who were identified as slow learners and advanced learners. The performance of some of the mentees was below the average level of performance of the whole class. The mentoring sessions helped to identify the cause of the poor performance and the mentees were helped to overcome their learning difficulties after a few personal mentoring sessions. The mentees whose performance was above the average level of performance of the whole class were identified and they were motivated to prepare for various competitive exams like UPSC, TNPSC, TRB etc. They were directed to attend certain online classes related to such exams.

The mentees raised the following issues in my interactions with them.

- 1) Lack of digital expertise and the inability to finance the adoption of digital infrastructure.
- 2) Difficulties in completing the selected courses. Exam preparations required additional resources and study materials.
- 3) In-demand online NET and PG Entrance Exam preparation courses.

Some issues resolved during the period were:

- 1) Provided all mentees with online materials and recorded classes via Telegram and Whatsapp.
- 2) Students who required counselling were provided with separate sessions.
- 3) Online assistance was provided for NET and PG Entrance preparations.

Our educational system includes mentoring of students, which attempts to offer direction and assistance. Mentors are essential to the college experience because they support mentees in overcoming obstacles to their studies and facilitating a seamless credit completion process. Every semester, mentor-mentee meetings are arranged to help our students reach their full potential and to implement the mentoring system on campus.

The pandemic made it necessary for mentoring to occur online with a uniform student body. This year, the mentoring committee decided to respond to the mentees' questions as reported by the mentors in their committee report. The committee members gathered data from the appropriate authorities and disseminated it to each mentor. The mentoring committee's comprehensive report for the 2020-2021 academic years is provided below.

MENTOR-MENTEE REPORT - 2020-2021

Ganesar Arts and Science College follows unique mentor mentee scheme that would help students to gain moral courage. Every faculty has an equal number of students allotted to them. They meet the students often one to one or as group based on the need. Teachers keep a continuous touch with the students that would encourage them to concentrate more on their purpose of being here. The guild lines for mentor mentee scheme would be explained by the Principal. The same one could also find in the handbook so as to have a proper understanding of the functioning of the system. Every year, the staff meets with the students four times. Usually, there are four meetings: the first at the beginning of the semester, the second at its conclusion, the third at the beginning of the second semester, and the fourth at its conclusion.

Executive plan:

A circular was sent to all the mentee about the date and time of the mentor meeting. They were taken to a peaceful place and were asked to share their grievances and suggestions. After that, mentor would see each mentee separately to get to know their personal details as well as their academic performance. They were encouraged to score more marks and to focus more on studies. Their personal problems were also addressed with proper guideline given by the principal. Mentees would always have a feeling that they have a supporting hand in the college.

Outcome:

Few mentees in the list were helped with financial facilities. And parent counseling was also done during the PTA meet. They were helped to get doubt clearance classes for their arrear papers. A number of books for preparation of competitive exams were bought for the reference section in the library.

DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS

MENTOR MENTEE REPORT

2020-2021

Mentoring has become a necessity to resolve problems relating to academics and other related issues faced by the students. Mentoring can build a healthy relationship between the students and teachers in building their discipline, performances and also for the overall positive growth of the students.

This batch of students was mentored by me during the pandemic. There was no physical presence of students in the department. They were at home but attending the classes in online mode. Some of the issues and concerns raised by the students were

1. Network issues for attending the online classes.
2. Non-availability of books and reference materials.
3. Not being able to perform the practical assignments properly.
4. Other issues were related to anxiety, depression and motivation.

It was indeed a huge task for me as a mentor to tackle such unexpected issues and concerns but I tried my best to deal with each of these issues taking into consideration the problems faced by every individual student. The following are some of the means that I adopted to help and facilitate the problems faced during such difficult times.

1. I kept myself available to them as and when required to discuss their problems and concerns
2. Along with recorded lectures, to solve the problem of network, the department requested all faculty members to record the live classes and make it available online for the students to watch them anytime anywhere as per their convenience.
3. I recommended them to visit online courses to further enhance their knowledge and skills in various subjects.
4. Provided important study material available at jstor as per their requirements, which relates to the courses.
5. Provided them information regarding free online resources such as applications, websites, software etc. to enhance their practical skills.
6. I organized live interactive sessions both in groups and at individual levels to discuss their problems relating to anxiety, depression and motivation and recommended them to read non academic books to keep them engaged, watch films and visit some motivational sites to improve their quality of life.

DEPARTMENT OF COMPUTER SCIENCE
MENTOR MENTEE REPORT 2020-2021

The Department of Computer Science put together a lot of programmes to help students grow. These programmes include both school-related and extracurricular activities. First, the students in each batch are put into groups, and a mentor is given to each group. The groups are set up in order by their names in the alphabet. The faculty mentor will also help the mentee deal with problems in their mind, in school, and with money. The mentor's job is to talk to the mentee in both formal and informal ways, like during face-to-face meetings where a mentoring sheet is filled out. A mentor can also tell how smart his mentees are by constantly looking at how well they do in school. Based on how well they do in school, mentees will be put into two groups: advanced learners and slow learners. To get to know the parents of the mentees and learn more about their families, online meetings with parents were set up as part of mentoring. Parents were told about the stressed out mentees' bodies and minds while they are stuck at home because of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Some issues raised during the period were:

- 1) Some of the mentees were not able to attend online classes via google meet due to poor connectivity.
- 2) One of the mentee was mentally depressed as she was a child of separated parents.
- 3) Another mentee confided that she could not concentrate on her studies due to the feeling of being left out in the family.
- 4) A couple of students had difficulty in understanding certain topics in mathematics.

Some issues resolved during the period were:

- 1) The recorded video of the classes dealt online was shared with the students so that they could make up the missed classes due to network issues.
- 2) Mentees in need of psychological support were advised to meet the college counsellor.
- 3) Extra classes were arranged for students having difficulty in catching up with the topics in mathematics.

Our educational system includes mentoring of students, which attempts to offer direction and assistance. Mentors are essential to the college experience because they support mentees in overcoming obstacles to their studies and facilitating a seamless credit completion process. Every semester, mentor-mentee meetings are arranged to help our students reach their full potential and to implement the mentoring system on campus.

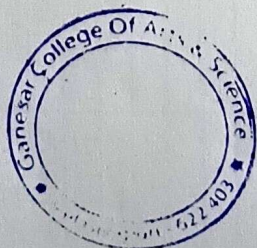

The pandemic made it necessary for mentoring to occur online with a uniform student body. This year, the mentoring committee decided to respond to the mentees' questions as reported by the mentors in their committee report. The committee members gathered data from the appropriate authorities and disseminated it to each mentor. The mentoring committee's comprehensive report for the 2020–2021 academic year is provided below.

S.No	Issues Raised	Issues Resolved
1	Some of the mentees were not able to attend online classes via google meet due to poor connectivity.	The recorded video of the classes dealt online was shared with the students so that they could make up for the missed classes due to network issues.
2	A couple of students had difficulty in understanding certain topics in mathematics.	Extra classes were arranged for students having difficulty in catching up with the topics in mathematics.
3	one student was realized to be suffering from financial issues.	We have made supplementary arrangements for the financial assistance

MENTOR MENTEE REPORT

Mentor: Dr.P.Kathiresan

Overcoming Stage Fear through Mentorship

I. Introduction This mentor-mentee relationship is a shining example of the profound impact of mentorship on a student's personal and academic growth. The mentee, known for their exceptional academic achievements, faced a significant challenge - stage fear. With the unwavering encouragement and support of their mentor, they embarked on a journey to overcome stage fear by participating in "Nannery Kalagam," a long-standing tradition of the Tamil Department of our college, dating back to 1909, aimed at helping students conquer their stage fear.

II. Goals and Objectives The primary goal of this mentorship was to address the mentee's stage fear and help them develop the confidence to speak in front of an audience. The mentor aimed to provide emotional support, guidance, and practical opportunities for the mentee to confront their fear and ultimately participate in "Nannery Kalagam."

III. Progress and Achievements The mentee, who had excelled in their academic pursuits, demonstrated remarkable progress in conquering stage fear. With the mentor's constant encouragement and guidance, they gradually built the confidence to speak in public. The culmination of this journey was their participation in "Nannery Kalagam," an event that has been integral to the Tamil Department's efforts to help students overcome stage fear.

IV. Mentorship Activities The mentorship activities included regular interactions, practice sessions, and emotional support provided by the mentor. The mentor created a nurturing and encouraging environment for the mentee to develop their public speaking skills. This included practical exercises to gradually build the mentee's confidence on stage.

V. Challenges and Lessons The primary challenge in this mentorship was addressing the mentee's deep-seated stage fear. The lessons learned from this experience underline the importance of mentorship in helping students overcome their fears, build confidence, and develop vital life skills.

VI. Feedback and Reflections The mentor played a pivotal role in this mentorship, guiding the mentee through a transformative journey from a student with severe stage fear to a confident public speaker. Their participation in "Nannery Kalagam" marked a significant milestone, highlighting the power of mentorship in personal growth.

VII. Conclusion This mentor-mentee relationship exemplifies the profound impact of mentorship in addressing challenges beyond academics. The mentor's support enabled the mentee to conquer their stage fear and participate in "Nannery Kalagam," a tradition with a rich history in our college, focused on helping students overcome their fears of public speaking.

This report recognizes the mentor's exceptional dedication and the positive outcomes of their mentorship, which empowered the mentee to develop confidence and conquer their stage fear. The successful participation in "Nannery Kalagam" is not just a testament to personal growth but also a celebration of the enduring traditions of the Tamil Department at our college.

Report on Mentor-Mentee 2019-2020

Our college has an annual mentor-mentee scheme to provide students with professional, social, and personal support to facilitate their success. Periodic meetings are held for coordination purposes. Equal number of students are assigned to each faculty. After the distribution of students, the principal convened a meeting for teachers to instruct and direct them regarding the scheme. The code of conduct also served as their guideline. The staff holds four meetings with students per year. The first meeting typically occurs at the start of the first semester, the second at the end of the first semester, the third at the start of the second semester, and the fourth at the end of the second semester.

General Observation:

The mentors have held four meetings with their students. Nearly all teachers have collected all pertinent student information, including mobile phone numbers, names, addresses, email addresses, and parents' contact information. Academic, social, health awareness, student's problem regarding study, study material, college facility and campus discipline, syllabus status, result analysis, student comprehension, departmental facilities, hygiene, library facility, water problem, travel problem, dress code, use of mobile phones, and personal issues are discussed at the meetings.

Specific Observations:

Mentors maintain and cultivate familial relationships with their students. Some of them had positive communication with parents and held parent meetings within their department. Possible number of meetings with students and their parents. Additionally, gathering programmes were organised on campus. Students were advised to maintain regular class attendance. Surprisingly, the results of weak students improved as a result of motivation and counselling. The majority of problems are resolved by the mentor through counselling and suggestions. If a serious issue arises, it is reported to a higher authority.

Outcome:

Students began to speak openly with their guardian teacher about various topics as a result of the programme. Students provide suggestions and requirements for the college's development. Improves students' career motivation, self-awareness and aids in anticipating a student's academic and personal issues.

DEPARTMENT OF COMPUTER SCIENCE

MENTOR MENTEE REPORT 2019-2020

Many programmes for student development were organised by the Department of Computer Science. These programmes combine curricular and extracurricular activities. First, each batch's students are divided into groups, and each group is assigned a mentor. The groups are organised alphabetically based on their names. In addition, the faculty mentor will help the mentee overcome mental, academic, and financial challenges. The mentor's role is to engage in both informal and formal communication with the mentee, such as personal interviews in which a mentoring sheet is filled out. A mentor can also identify his mentees' academic prowess by constantly analysing their academic performances. Mentees will be classified as advanced or slow learners based on their academic performance.

The mentor could see an improvement in learning performance, language skill, public speaking skill, and so on by the end of the academic year. Furthermore, the mentees established positive relationships with faculty and students in the department and other departments, indicating an improvement in their interpersonal skills.

Issues raised:

- 1) During the interaction with the students, it was discovered that one student was experiencing financial difficulties. It began to have an impact on their day-to-day travel.
- 2) Students contacted me to learn how to enter various inter-departmental and inter-collegiate literary and similar competitions.
- 3) Overloading with homework and assignments and not having enough time to submit them on time was a problem for some students. Students also had difficulty managing their time in exam halls.
- 4) Some of the challenges faced by married students in the class included balancing work, college, and family.

Issues resolved

- 1) We have made additional arrangements for financial assistance through the "Alumni Fund."
- 2) I showed the student groups posters from various inter-departmental and intercollegiate competitions. They are also encouraged to participate in such programmes.
- 3) Students who needed counselling were referred to the College Counsellor, who resolved issues involving peer pressure and tensions.
- 4) Married students' difficulties were communicated to their parents and spouses, who were asked to provide the necessary support.

Report on Mentor-Mentee 2018-2019

Our college has an annual mentor-mentee scheme to provide students with professional, social, and personal support to facilitate their success. Periodic meetings are held for coordination purposes. Equal number of students are assigned to each faculty. After the distribution of students, the principal convened a meeting for teachers to instruct and direct them regarding the scheme. The code of conduct also served as their guideline. The staff holds four meetings with students per year. The first meeting typically occurs at the start of the first semester, the second at the end of the first semester, the third at the start of the second semester, and the fourth at the end of the second semester.

General Observation:

The mentors have held four meetings with their students. Nearly all teachers have collected all pertinent student information, including mobile phone numbers, names, addresses, email addresses, and parents' contact information. Academic, social, health awareness, student's problem regarding study, study material, college facility and campus discipline, syllabus status, result analysis, student comprehension, departmental facilities, hygiene, library facility, water problem, travel problem, dress code, use of mobile phones, and personal issues are discussed at the meetings.

Specific Observations:

Mentors maintain and cultivate familial relationships with their students. Some of them had positive communication with parents and held parent meetings within their department. Possible number of meetings with students and their parents. Additionally, gathering programmes were organised on campus. Students were advised to maintain regular class attendance. Surprisingly, the results of weak students improved as a result of motivation and counselling. The majority of problems are resolved by the mentor through counselling and suggestions. If a serious issue arises, it is reported to a higher authority.

Outcome:

DEPARTMENT OF COMPUTER SCIENCE
MENTOR MENTEE REPORT 2018-19

Many programmes for student development were organised by the Department of Computer Science. These programmes combine curricular and extracurricular activities. First, each batch's students are divided into groups, and each group is assigned a mentor. The groups are organised alphabetically based on their names. In addition, the faculty mentor will help the mentee overcome mental, academic, and financial challenges. The mentor's role is to engage in both informal and formal communication with the mentee, such as personal interviews in which a mentoring sheet is filled out. A mentor can also identify his mentees' academic prowess by constantly analysing their academic performances. Mentees will be classified as advanced or slow learners based on their academic performance.

Students face a variety of stress issues. Mentoring is necessary for students to achieve emotional stability as well as to promote clarity in thinking and decision-making for the overall programme. Some students are assigned to each teacher. They meet on a regular basis to discuss, clarify, and share various problems that may be personal, domestic, or academic in nature. Better exam results, more regular attendance, increased participation in co-curricular activities, improved campus discipline, and respectful relationships between teachers and students are all evidence of the practice's success.

Issues raised:

- 1) Students reported and complained that the restrooms near the PG classrooms stank.
- 2) Through interactions with the students, it was discovered that one student was experiencing financial difficulties. It began to have an impact on their day-to-day travel.
- 3) Some students experienced exam anxiety because they were unfamiliar with the college's examination system.
- 4) Most students are unaware of the scholarship opportunities available to them.

Issues resolved

- 1) The principal took the initiative to clean the restrooms immediately.
- 2) The department has made an internal adjustment to address the student's financial concerns. The "Alumni" fund made the necessary arrangements.
- 3) Before examinations, mentor-mentee sessions were held to provide examination instructions.
- 4) A session was held to inform students about the scholarship programmes.

For the academic year 2018-2019, the Department of Physics has assigned us 68 (I, II, and III year) mentees. We regularly meet and provide counseling to the students in accordance with the college's guidelines. On occasion, we also made sure that the session's successful parent-student and mentor contact occurred. Visiting the mentees' homes and having frank and honest discussions with their parents was a terrific idea. They also value the extra efforts the collage is doing to ensure the welfare of its wards. The mentor-mentee meetings took place twice a month, and in addition, the mentees received group guidance during their free time after the teaching schedule.

We also spoke with parents about the curriculum, extracurricular activities, and counseling for a range of girl issues. A handful of them brought up the following concerns during phone calls and in-person discussions on campus, and the administration duly intervened to resolve them. The following were the problems:

S.No	Issues Raised	Issues Resolved
1	Increase more books in department laboratory	The demand is discussed with principal, and she agrees with it and in few months the demand is fulfill by principal and management.
2	Conduct special courses for entrepreneurship orient	The demand is discussed with principal and started value added course
3	The cleanliness of classrooms and availability of tap water in washroom	The demand is discussed with principal and principal successfully an action on it.
