Workshop on Density Functional Theory

ABOUT THE COLLEGE

Ganesar College of Arts and Science is situated in the village Melaisivapuri which is near to the historical city Parambu Nadu (Piranmalai) ruled by the lord of the hill country Vallal Vel Pari. It is a remote area, which is a drought-prone one. While struggling to keep their body and soul together, it was impossible for the people to spend money for the education of their children. Realizing the misery of the people of this area, two kind hearted patrons from the family of V. PL. S., came forward to light the light of education. Sanmarga Sabai was registered under the Societies Act XXI of 1860 on 13th May 1909. V.PL.S. Palaniappa Chettiar and his brother V.PL.S. Annamalai Chettiar founded the Sanmarga Sabai and Ganesar Senthamil Kalloori. It is one of the primordial colleges of Tamil Nadu and now the congregation (Sanmarga Sabai) multiplied and gowned for more than a century with the harbouring support of the brother's descendants.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

Ganesar College of arts and science is one of the famous colleges and it has a long term tradition and antiquity. The Physics Department was started in 1996 as a part of Computer Science Department in Ganesar College of Arts and Sciences. Considering the importance of Physics in the modern world, Physics Department was converted into a separate department from 2015. In 2020, its laboratory was expanded for students' improvement. The physics department is working for rural students to improving their science knowledge and researching ability

Purpose of This Workshop: The density functional theory (DFT) is one of the powerful methods to solve quantum many-body problems, which, in principle, gives the exact energy and density of the ground state. The accuracy of DFT is, in practice, determined by the accuracy of an energy density functional (EDF) since the exact EDF is still unknown. Currently, DFT has been used in many communities, including nuclear physics, quantum chemistry, and condensed matter physics, while the fundamental study of DFT, such as the first principle derivations of an accurate EDF and methods to calculate many observables from obtained densities and excited states. However, there has been little opportunity to have interdisciplinary communication. In this workshop, the current status and issues of each discipline will be shared towards solving these problems by meeting together among researchers in nuclear physics, quantum chemistry, and condensed matter physics. This workshop mainly comprises lectures/seminars on cutting-edge topics and discussion, while a one-day workshop composed of contributed talks is also planned.

Goods and services are divided into five different tax slabs for collection of tax: 0%, 5%, 12%, 18% and 28%. However, petroleum products, alcoholic drinks, and electricity are not taxed under GST and instead are taxed separately by the individual state governments, as per the previous tax system.^[1] There is a special rate of 0.25% on rough precious and semi-precious stones and 3% on gold.^[2] In addition a cess of 22% or other rates on top of 28% GST applies on several items like aerated drinks, luxury cars and tobacco products.^[3] Pre-GST, the statutory tax rate for most goods was about 26.5%; post-GST, most goods are expected to be in the 18% tax range.

The tax came into effect from 1 July 2017 through the implementation of the One Hundred and First Amendment of the Constitution of India by the Indian government. 1st July is celebrated as GST Day.^[4] The GST replaced existing multiple taxes levied by the central and state governments.

Also, to boost GST billing in India, the Government of India, in association with state governments, has launched an "Invoice Incentive Scheme" (Mera Bill Mera Adhikar). This will encourage the culture of customers asking for invoices and bills for all purchases. The objective of the scheme is to bring a cultural and behavioural change in the general public to 'Ask for a Bill' as their right and entitlement

ABOUT US

Success is assured by the right choice of an educational institution. The spirit of the institution has the power to influence the personality of the learner. A sound institution alone can give a sound knowledge to the students. That is why very few institutions alone can stand the test of time. Ganesar College of Arts & Science, Melaisivapuri, has been a radiant star shining in the firmament of education since 1909. It has a balanced blend of Tradition and Modernity. It has been inspiring students with its quality education. Students have been chiseled to become intelligent citizens who strongly imbibe the spirit of morality. It has been growing like a royal banyan passing its Centenary Year. The University Grants Commission UGC had notified Regulations for recognition of our college under Section 2(f) & 12(B) of the UGC Act, 1956. Our College has been a temple of wisdom, where scholars undertake intellectual pilgrimage to glorify the Classical Tamil. Realizing the fact that Tamil and Saivam are inseparable twins, our College has been rendering services, which are historically, socially and intellectually significant. If we have a glance at the history of our old students who got enlightened in this renowned institution, we can realize the praiseworthy standard of our College. Our students, who got educated and their personality developed here and who have been serving in every walk of life, have been bringing more laurels to our College. Our students get University Ranks in every Academic Year.

Vision and Mission

To enable the young learners of this draught-prone area to receive higher education and to shape their personality and thereby make them good and successful citizens of our nation.

- To serve the poor, downtrodden and needy students to receive quality education.
- To motivate the students to gain knowledge with self-confidence by offering good academic exposure.
- To inspire the students to realize the greatness of our traditional and cultural values which would rightly chisel their personality.

- To make use of all the possible opportunities to inculcate the spirit of research and creativity in their minds.
- To develop the employability skills in them to make them reach higher goals in their life.

Sanmarga sabai

Sanmarga sabai established Ganesar Senthamil Kalasalai in 1909. They passed a resolution to declare Tamil as the classical language in the year. The following are the vision and mission of the Sanmarga Sabai.

- Flourish and Cherish Saivam and Tamil.
- To render true and excellent service for education and not for money.

College history

Besides being an estimable institution our Ganesar College of Arts & Science proves to be a rare boon to the poor and downtrodden people living at and around Melaisivapuri Village. The year 2009 marked the Centenary year. Her noble objectives determine the attitude of the valuable services which she has been rendering since 1909. The poor here sweat a lot to keep their body and soul together. It was impossible for them to think about giving good education to their children. To extend them a warm helping hand our college was established. Unmindful of monetary reward the patrons V.P.S Palaniappa Chettiar and V.P.S. Annamalai Chettiar founded the college. In fact they created an oasis amidst of a drought-prone area where people struggle for survival.

Originally our college was founded in 1909. Few literary genre in Tamil Literature were taught to the poor students who were rich in their enthusiasm to learn those pieces of works. In Succession our college began to prepare students for Pravesa Panditham and Bala panditham which were the course titled Vidhuvan offered by Madurai Tamil sangam. In 1938 our college was affiliated to Madras University. Since 1982 it has been under the affiliation of Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli.

Many of our students belong to SC communities (above 40%), coming from very poor family. Our college is a blessing to the SC students because they feel happy to study in an atmosphere of communal harmony.

The needy parents hesitate a lot to send their girls (daughters) to far away towns or cities to get higher education. This limitation found among the parents of the poor women students tried to close the Gateway of knowledge. As a selfless savior, our college came forward to help them. In fact it is a rare honour for our college it was she who produced the First Graduates in the families in which for many generations none receive at least the primary education or almost all remained illiterate. Now the poor and illiterate parents of our women students greet our college with heart-felt gratitude. If our college had not been founded here, 99% of the young women would have remained illiterate and lived in the Darkness of Ignorance. Fortunately they have been blessed to receive quality education at our college.

The most benefited section of the society here is its weaker section – women. The quality education given, the well regulated discipline maintenance and the safe, calm and pollution free atmosphere prevalent here bring more women students from all the districts of Tamilnadu. Along with their parents the students feel that is blessing to study here.

The Goods and Services Tax (GST) is a successor to VAT used in India on the supply of goods and services. GST is a digitalized form of VAT where you can also track the goods & services. Both VAT and GST have the same taxation slabs. It is a comprehensive, multistage, destination-based tax: comprehensive because it has subsumed almost all the indirect taxes except a few state taxes. Multi-staged as it is, the GST is imposed at every step in the production process, but is meant to be refunded to all parties in the various stages of production other than the final consumer and as a destination-based tax, it is collected from point of consumption and not point of origin like previous taxes.

REPORT

ONE DAY STATE LEVEL WORKSHOP ON “APPLICATION FOR RESEARCH METHODS IN SPSS TOOLS AND TECHNIQUES”

07th September 2018 @ 10.00 AM

Research reports are recorded data prepared by researchers or statisticians after analyzing the information gathered by conducting organized research, typically in the form of surveys or qualitative methods.

A research report is a reliable source to recount details about a conducted research. It is most often considered to be a true testimony of all the work done to garner specificities of research.

Research is imperative for launching a new product/service or a new feature. The markets today are extremely volatile and competitive due to new entrants every day who may or may not provide effective products. An organization needs to make the right decisions at the right time to be relevant in such a market with updated products that suffice customer demands.

The details of a research report may change with the purpose of research but the main components of a report will remain constant. The research approach of the market researcher also influences the style of writing reports. Here are seven main components of a productive research report:

- Research Report Summary: The entire objective along with the overview of research is to be included in a summary which is a couple of paragraphs in length. All the multiple components of the research are explained in brief under the report summary. It should be interesting enough to capture all the key elements of the report.
- Research Introduction: There always is a primary goal that the researcher is trying to achieve through a report. In the introduction section, he/she can cover answers related to this goal and establish a thesis which will be included to strive and answer it in detail. This section should answer an integral question: “What is the current situation of the goal?”. After the research design was conducted, did the organization conclude the goal successfully or they are still a work in progress – provide such details in the introduction part of the research report.
- Research Methodology: This is the most important section of the report where all the important information lies. The readers can gain data for the topic along with analyzing the quality of provided content and the research can also be approved by other market researchers. Thus, this section needs to be highly informative with each aspect of research discussed in detail. Information needs to be expressed in chronological order according to its priority and importance. Researchers should include references in case they gained information from existing techniques.
- Research Results: A short description of the results along with calculations conducted to achieve the goal will form this section of results. Usually, the exposition after data analysis is carried out in the discussion part of the report.

SPSS (Statistical Package for the Social Sciences), also known as IBM SPSS Statistics, is a software package used for the analysis of statistical data.

Although the name of SPSS reflects its original use in the field of social sciences, its use has since expanded into other data markets. SPSS is commonly used in healthcare, marketing and education research.

The types of data analyzed using SPSS is widely varied. Common sources include survey results, organization customer databases, Google Analytics, scientific research results and server log files. SPSS supports both analysis and modification of many kinds of data and almost all formats of structured data. The software supports spreadsheets, plain text files and relational databases such as SQL, SATA and SAS.

SPSS provides data analysis for descriptive and bivariate statistics, numeral outcome predictions and predictions for identifying groups. The software also provides data transformation, graphing and direct marketing features.

The software interface displays open data similarly to a spreadsheet in its main view. With its secondary variable view, the metadata that describes the variables and data entries present in the data file are displayed.

The software package was created in 1968 by SPSS Inc. and was acquired by IBM in 2009. While the software was renamed to IBM SPSS Statistics, it is still commonly referred to as just SPSS.

products—particularly in areas where public health or safety is an issue, such as with food or automobiles.

Consumer protection is linked to the idea of consumer rights and to the formation of consumer organizations, which help consumers make better choices in the marketplace and pursue complaints against businesses. Entities that promote consumer protection include government organizations (such as the Federal Trade Commission in the United States), self-regulating business organizations (such as the Better Business Bureaus in the US, Canada, England, etc.), and non-governmental organizations that advocate for consumer protection laws and help to ensure their enforcement (such as consumer protection agencies and watchdog groups).

A consumer is defined as someone who acquires goods or services for direct use or ownership rather than for resale or use in production and manufacturing. Consumer interests can also serve consumers, consistent with economic efficiency, but this topic is treated in competition law. Consumer protection can also be asserted via non-government organizations and individuals as consumer activism.

Efforts made for the protection of consumer's rights and interests are:

- The right to satisfaction of basic needs
- The right to safety
- The right to be informed
- The right to choose
- The right to be heard
- The right to redress
- The right to consumer education
- The right to a healthy environment

ABOUT US

Success is assured by the right choice of an educational institution. The spirit of the institution has the power to influence the personality of the learner. A sound institution alone can give a sound knowledge to the students. That is why very few institutions alone can stand the test of time. Ganesar College of Arts & Science, Melaisivapuri, has been a radiant star shining in the firmament of education since 1909. It has a balanced blend of Tradition and Modernity. It has been inspiring students with its quality education. Students have been chiseled to become intelligent citizens who strongly imbibe the spirit of morality. It has been growing like a royal banyan passing its Centenary Year. The University Grants Commission UGC had notified Regulations for recognition of our college under Section 2(f) & 12(B) of the UGC Act, 1956. Our College has been a temple of wisdom, where scholars undertake intellectual pilgrimage to glorify the Classical Tamil. Realizing the fact that Tamil and Saivism are inseparable twins, our College has been rendering services, which are historically, socially and intellectually significant. If we have a glance at the history of our old students who got enlightened in this renowned institution, we can realize the praiseworthy standard of our College. Our students, who got educated and their personality developed here and who have been serving in every walk of life, have been bringing more laurels to our College. Our students get University Ranks in every Academic Year.

Vision and Mission

To enable the young learners of this draught-prone area to receive higher education and to shape their personality and thereby make them good and successful citizens of our nation.

- To serve the poor, downtrodden and needy students to receive quality education.
- To motivate the students to gain knowledge with self-confidence by offering good academic exposure.
- To inspire the students to realize the greatness of our traditional and cultural values which would rightly chisel their personality.

- To make use of all the possible opportunities to inculcate the spirit of research and creativity in their minds.
- To develop the employability skills in them to make them reach higher goals in their life.

Sanmarga sabai

Sanmarga sabai established Ganesar Senthamil Kalasalai in 1909. They passed a resolution to declare Tamil as the classical language in the year. The following are the vision and mission of the Sanmarga Sabai.

- Flourish and Cherish Saivism and Tamil.
- To render true and excellent service for education and not for money.

College history

Besides being an estimable institution our Ganesar College of Arts & Science proves to be a rare boon to the poor and downtrodden people living at and around Melaisivapuri Village. The year 2009 marked the Centenary year. Her noble objectives determine the attitude of the valuable services which she has been rendering since 1909. The poor here sweat a lot to keep their body and soul together. It was impossible for them to think about giving good education to their children. To extend them a warm helping hand our college was established. Unmindful of monetary reward the patrons V.P.S Palaniappa Chettiar and V.P.S. Annamalai Chettiar founded the college. In fact they created an oasis amidst of a drought-prone area where people struggle for survival.

Originally our college was founded in 1909. Few literary genre in Tamil Literature were taught to the poor students who were rich in their enthusiasm to learn those pieces of works. In Succession our college began to prepare students for Pravesa Panditham and Bala panditham which were the course titled Vidhuvan offered by Madurai Tamil sangam. In 1938 our college was affiliated to Madras University. Since 1982 it has been under the affiliation of Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli.

Many of our students belong to SC communities (above 40%), coming from very poor family. Our college is a blessing to the SC students because they feel happy to study in an atmosphere of communal harmony.

The needy parents hesitate a lot to send their girls (daughters) to far away towns or cities to get higher education. This limitation found among the parents of the poor women students tried to close the Gateway of knowledge. As a selfless savior, our college came forward to help them. In fact it is a rare honour for our college it was she who produced the First Graduates in the families in which for many generations none receive at least the primary education or almost all remained illiterate. Now the poor and illiterate parents of our women students greet our college with heart-felt gratitude. If our college had not been founded here, 99% of the young women would have remained illiterate and lived in the Darkness of Ignorance. Fortunately they have been blessed to receive quality education at our college.

The most benefited section of the society here is its weaker section – women. The quality education given, the well regulated discipline maintenance and the safe, calm and pollution free atmosphere prevalent here bring more women students from all the districts of Tamilnadu. Along with their parents the students feel that is blessing to study here

Consumer protection is the practice of safeguarding buyers of goods and services, and the public, against unfair practices in the marketplace. Consumer protection measures are often established by law. Such laws are intended to prevent businesses from engaging in fraud or specified unfair practices to gain an advantage over competitors or to mislead consumers. They may also provide additional protection for the general public which may be impacted by a product (or its production) even when they are not the direct purchaser or consumer of that product. For example, government regulations may require businesses to disclose detailed information about their

ONE DAY STATE LEVEL WORKSHOP ON “RESEARCH REVIEW OF LITERATURE IN COMMERCE”

04th March 2019 @ 10.00 AM

Structuring a literature review

In general, literature reviews are structured in a similar way to a standard essay, with an introduction, a body and a conclusion. These are key structural elements. Additionally, a stand-alone extended literature review has an abstract. Throughout, headings and subheadings are used to divide up the literature review into meaningful sections.

There is no single “correct” structure for how to structure the content of your literature review – every review is shaped by the nature of the field being reviewed and the specific argument the review is supporting. Here are some common literature review organising patterns:

- ✓ historical development (chronological)
- ✓ themes
- ✓ concepts
- ✓ definitions
- ✓ debates
- ✓ pros and cons
- ✓ theories
- ✓ methodological issues
- ✓ definitions
- ✓ key works of a single author

- ✓ key works in a particular field of study

For example, a literature review on the definitions of key terms or concepts in a particular field of study might analyse a variety of definitions and conclude by defending a selected definition.

A literature review is a narrative compilation of selected academic sources related to your topic. Lit reviews describe the research you have studied and develop in your reason for the study, as well as provide criticism of past research. The end result should be a narrative showing the inherent need for your research in the field. Grounding your intended research in the current movements of the field will provide you with evidence of trends on where the field is headed. It also offers you the snapshot of the methodologies used in those studies. You can see what questions are being asked and find answers based on differing approaches to the topic.

An ideal literature review serves two purposes in your study. It strengthens your thesis and justifies your research question. By providing a critical summary of foundational and contemporary research on the topic, a literature review can show readers how your research fills important knowledge gaps. Pinpointing the other work in the field can show the unique perspective your study will provide. It can also offer a thoughtful critique of existing work that shows your full understanding of the opportunities and obstacles in your discipline.

Why a Literature Review?

- effectively use research methods to collect and curate information that is useful in answering significant questions;
- foster the ability to make decisions based on rigorous evidence;
- effectively communicate research results in a written form;
- develop the discipline to work with autonomy;
- understand the value, purpose, and methodologies of insightful research.

Developing a Literature Review

The Literature Review makes the case for your research. To do so effectively, follow these steps:

Identify what you already know in the research - What existing studies and papers led you to start this project? Take a look at the works cited on these studies since it will lead you to other research.

Create an annotated bibliography - It will help you remember the key points of the information you are reading.

Map key studies and researchers in your field - What is the most significant work? Who are the key researchers? What questions do they ask in their research? How has the research grown, and what obstacles still remain in the field? If you are uncertain about the prominent thinkers and what the key issues are in your field, you can sometimes reverse engineer based on your known studies. Ask yourself as you read, who are the authors and works I'm seeing cited frequently? Add those to your bibliography.
