Goal

Improving Women's Education

A well-educated woman provides the skills, knowledge, and self-assurance necessary to be a better mom, worker, and citizen. A well-educated woman will also be more productive and well-paid at work. Indeed, the return on investment in education is often higher for women than for males.

Objectives

Importance of Women Education Education means study of knowledge and learning from our environment, from our selves, from our ancestors' success and transfer it in good manner to our next generation. Education helps us to understand how to react in different conditions and how to communicate with other people. Education is our right and it must be given to everyone without any discrimination among men and women. Unfortunately despite of our modernism in technology, discrimination among genders is still present in many parts of the world. People always think that men must be educated because they have to earn for their livings and women education is not necessary because they just need to know to how to handle a family. It is totally wrong; education is a basic right of every woman. Education help a women to understand their basic rights. A country cannot be fully developed without woman...
